

ABSTRACT

Access to electronic media may be enabled by accessing a first track of electronic media, accessing a rule set, the rule set including an event definition describing an event condition to be monitored/detected during a current media state, and an event transition that relates the event definition to a new media state. The occurrence of the event in the rule set may be detected so that the event transition may be performed in response detecting to the event.

40137631.doc